What is occupational training?

The Occupational Trainee visa allows foreign nationals to complete structured and supervised workplace-based training programmes or academic research that will provide additional or enhanced skills in their present occupations, tertiary studies or fields of expertise.

Occupational training is:

- a supervised workplace-based training programme that is designed specifically to increase a person's skill/knowledge level in their occupation or field of study or area of expertise. At least 70% of the training must be workplace-based; OR
- a fixed period of postgraduate supervised practical experience required for registration in a profession or occupation in Australia or in the person's home country.

Occupational training is not:

- an apprenticeship;
- full-time work without formal ongoing training (unless related to registration in Australia or the home country).

The proposed training must:

- clearly relate to the applicant's current occupation, major field of study or area of expertise;
- be designed to enhance their current skill/knowledge level or be a requirement for registration in their occupation in Australia or in their home country;
- be consistent with their employment and/or education history;
- not adversely affect occupational or training opportunities for Australian citizens or permanent residents.

Who completes this nomination?

- This form is to be used to nominate persons to enter Australia for occupational training in Australia.
- This form must be signed by a person who is authorised to make the declaration on behalf of the nominator.
- A separate form should be completed for each person nominated.

If the primary purpose is for employment of the nominee rather than training, do not complete this form. The exception is for student visa holders who are required to complete a programme for registration in their profession. Ask for further information and the appropriate sponsorship form at the nearest office of the Department of Immigration and Citizenship (the department).

What responsibilities do nominators have?

Nominators must complete this nomination form and provide the required documentation.

As the nominator you are also expected to:

- ensure that the activities of your nominee in Australia are not varied from those described in the nomination;
- ensure that any periods of practical experience amounting to employment of the nominee comply with Australian Industrial Relations laws and Australian Awards particularly in relation to levels of remuneration, and conditions of service; and
- immediately notify the department if your nominee leaves, or fails to meet the requirements of the training programme.

How to fill in this form

All questions on pages 5, 6, 7 and 8 must be answered. Incomplete forms will delay processing.

If you need more space to answer questions or wish to provide additional relevant information, attach a signed and dated sheet with these details.

Any alterations made before you lodge the form must be initialled and dated.

What documents should be provided with the nomination?

A decision on the nomination will be made on the basis of the information provided and the legislation in place when the nomination is lodged.

To ensure quick processing, nominating organisations should provide:

- details of the comprehensive workplace-based training programme including duration, a skills audit (including English language skills) and training needs analysis of the nominee, details of supervision by a suitably qualified staff member, learning outcomes and how these are assessed, objectives, tasks and timeframes;
- details of any classroom-based studies involved;
- where applicable, evidence from:
  - the relevant regulatory body that the nominee is required to undertake training or work experience for mandatory registration purposes; or
  - the educational provider in the home country that the nominee is required to undertake the practical experience or research programme as part of their course of study;
- a profile of the organisation (if the organisation has never or not recently [within the last 12 months] dealt with the department) including its activities, organisational structure, number of employees and the ratio of Australian citizens/permanent residents to non-residents;

- evidence that similar training is being offered to Australian citizens or permanent residents of Australia in the normal course of the organisation's business;
- if the position is unremunerated please complete form 1284 Occupational trainee visa – Acknowledgement by nominator and have the nominee complete form 1283 Occupational trainee visa – Acknowledgement by nominee (if unpaid) and submit these with your nomination; and
- contact details for resolving queries.

All relevant documents must be provided at the time this form is lodged.

Where are nominations submitted?

The nomination form should be submitted to the departmental office in Australia nearest to where the training is to be provided.

When should the nomination be submitted?

Submit the nomination as soon as possible to ensure that your nominee arrives in time to commence training.

Nominees may need to undergo a medical examination, see form 1163i Health requirement for temporary entry to Australia for details.

Is there a fee for nomination?

There is no charge payable for processing an occupational training nomination. However, your nominee will have to pay a Visa Application Charge when the visa (subclass 442) application is lodged.

How will you be notified?

You will be advised in writing of the outcome of your nomination by the Australian departmental assessing office.

You should provide a copy of the approval letter to your nominee.

You should note that approval of the nomination does not guarantee that a visa will be issued to your nominee; visa issue is subject to the nominee meeting a number of requirements for entry to Australia.

Your nominee should be advised not to make any travel arrangements until their visa application has been approved.

Where can you get more information?

Further information on nominations for occupational training in Australia can be obtained from the department's website www.immi.gov.au or any office of the department in Australia.

About the information you give in this form

The department is authorised to collect information provided on this form under Part 2 of the Migration Act 1958 'Control of Arrival and Presence of Non-Citizens'. The information provided will be used for assessing your nomination, and for other purposes relating to the administration of the Migration Act.

The information provided might also be disclosed to agencies who are authorised to receive information relating to adoption, border control, business skills, citizenship, education, health assessment, health insurance, health services, law enforcement, payment of pensions and benefits, taxation, review of decisions and registration of migration agents.

The information form 993i Safeguarding your personal information, available from the department's website or offices of the department, gives details of agencies to which your information might be disclosed.

Consent to communicate electronically

The department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or e-mail will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your nomination the department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, financial matters and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with. If you agree to the department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the department over the internet or by other electronic means.

Options for receiving written communications

You may authorise another person to receive all communications, both written and electronic, about your nomination with the department. You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To do this you will need to complete Question 45 Options for receiving written communications and form 956 Appointment of a migration agent or exempt agent or other authorised recipient. For an explanation of what a migration agent or exempt agent or authorised recipient can do please read the sections below.

To change or end the appointment of your migration agent or exempt agent or authorised recipient you must promptly advise the department in writing. You can do this by using form 956 Appointment of a migration agent or exempt agent or other authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

An authorised recipient is someone you appoint to receive written communications about your nomination with the department.

All written communication about your nomination will be sent to your authorised recipient.

The department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular application.

Migration agent information

A migration agent is someone who can:

- advise you on the visa that may best suit you;
- tell you the documents you need to submit with your nomination;
- help you fill in the nomination and submit it; and
- communicate with the department on your behalf.

If you appoint a migration agent, the department will assume that your migration agent will be your authorised recipient, unless you indicate otherwise.

Your migration agent will be the person with whom the department will discuss your nomination and from whom it will seek further information when required.

You are not required to use a migration agent. However, if you use a migration agent, the department encourages you to use a registered migration agent. Registered agents are bound by the Migration Agents Code of Conduct, which requires them to act professionally in their clients' lawful best interests.

Immigration assistance

A person gives immigration assistance to you if he or she uses, or claims to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist with a visa application, request for ministerial intervention, cancellation review application, sponsorship or nomination.

In Australia a person may only lawfully give immigration assistance if he or she is a registered migration agent or is exempt from being registered. Only registered migration agents may receive a fee or reward for providing immigration assistance.

If an unregistered person in Australia, who is not exempt from registration, gives you immigration assistance they are committing a criminal offence and may be prosecuted.

Migration agents in Australia

Migration agents in Australia must be registered with the Migration Agents Registration Authority (MARA) unless they are exempt from registration.

Migration agents outside Australia

Migration agents who operate outside Australia do not have to be registered. The department may give some overseas agents an ID number. This number does not mean that they are registered.

Note: Some Australian registered migration agents operate overseas.

Exempt agents

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent in order to provide immigration assistance, but they must not charge a fee for their service:

- a close family member (spouse, child, adopted child, parent, brother or sister);
- a sponsor or nominator for a visa application;
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- an official whose duties include providing immigration assistance (eg. a Legal Aid provider);
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

Further information on migration agents

Information on migration agents, including a list of registered migration agents, is available on the Migration Agents Registration Authority (MARA) website www.themara.com.au

You can also access information about migration agents on the department's website www.immi.gov.au
